

the DUBLINER

irish bar & restaurant
thessaloniki

Irish Music Session

Sunday
13th February
16:30 onwards

Irish Music Sessions are a very traditional thing. They are informal gatherings of musicians who like to play traditional Irish music. The Irish language word for “session” is seisiún.

The Dubliner, with friends, has brought this tradition to Thessaloniki.

Sunday
13th February
16:30 onwards

Covid rules have relaxed a little so we can start the 'sessions' again – yeah!

Sunday
13th February
16:30 onwards

Musicians sit together, play a tune if they know it and listen if they don't. After a few tunes, the musicians have a drink, go out for a cigarette, talk, and then start playing again. So, a session is as much a social occasion as it is a musical one.

the DUBLINER
irish bar & restaurant
chessaloniki

Sunday
13th February
16:30 onwards

Irish sessions are not a gig, they are not paid and no amplification is used. It is Irish music in a true, traditional and raw form!

Irish music is open to everybody, all nationalities and ages are welcome. Come to the Dubliner, bring your friends, and enjoy yourselves.

the DUBLINER
irish bar & restaurant
chessaloniki

Sunday
13th February
16:30 onwards

We will hold these sessions monthly, sheet music can be supplied to learn the tunes if you need it.

Don't be nervous....

Come along for the 'craic agus ceol'
Every 2nd Sunday of the month!

the DUBLINER

irish bar & restaurant
thessaloniki

Irish Music Session

